King and Queen of the Annual

The King and Queen of the annual this year are Dick Fuller and Melvina Masters who were elected by any student who purchased a yearbook. The candidates were the six top subscription salesmen--the three top boys and three top girls. The other candidates were Betty Outcalt, Lesley Stoltz, Alex Mahomey, and Cliff Flanagan.

Winger Wins

With the change of school name, team name, and school colors, it was thought that it would be proper to pick a different name for the annual. A contest was held for students who purchased an annual to suggest names for the yearbook, the prize being a free yearbook.

The "Mad Bombers of Monroe Street" under the direction (?) of Mr. Tinkel risk life and limb mixing and brewing the dangerous chemicals in the chemistry lab.

In Home Ec. the girls learn the fine (?) art of cooking; ironing, in this case; and house-keeping in general.

Another group of experimenters are those found probing for tiny, microscopic amoebas in biology class.

In this picture of our new teachers, Miss Bowman, is busily teaching some of the bright (?) students of M.C.H.S. to type. She is so thorough in her teaching that these students will probably see a s d f j k l ; in their dreams.

On the bulletin board back of Miss Rice, one can see some of the work that has been accomplished by the high school and other art classes.

When one hears a whistle resounding loudly through the halls he instantly knows that Mrs. Knote has a group of girls running through their physical paces in the gym. Usually, while Mrs. Knote is "getting the girls in shape" the whole building knows it.

A black and white photograph of seven students, four boys and three girls, gathered around a table. Two girls are seated at the table, writing on papers. Four boys stand behind them, looking on. The students are dressed in mid-20th-century attire.

In the middle of February, a few new members will be elected by the administration and faculty, from among the Roll Seniors, who joined us this year, and from the Juniors and Sophomores who can meet the standards.

HAPTER I

ADMINISTRATION

SCHOOL BOARD

Daniel Markley, president; Walter Rogers, vice-president; Robert Daily, treasurer; Paul Schwartzkopf, secretary.

MR. WAYNE HAYES

Superintendent; School Board Member; Central Normal, Ball State; M.S., Indiana University

MR. A. F. ALLEN
Principal; M.S., Central College; Purdue University.

"Hello, Superintendent's office," is the most used phrase of Mrs. Rex Black, secretary to our superintendent, Mr. Hays. Mrs. Black has served in this position for four years.

Our "handy woman" at MCHS is Betty E. Grove, secretary to our principal, Mr. Allen. Miss Grove has a very busy job answering the telephone, giving out aspirins, making announcements, writing passes and absent slips to mention a few of her various duties.

We have acquired eleven new teachers this year. Four of them, Mrs. Elinor Barber, Mr. Paul Hammel, Mr. Jay Beaver, and Mr. Michael Drayer, came to us from Roll due to the consolidation of M.H.S. with R.H.S. The other seven new teachers are new to all of us; they are Miss Donna Bowman, Mrs. Sylvia Kelley, Miss Linda Stewart and Mr. William Nieman, all in their first year of teaching; and Mr. John Neff, Mr. Bert Richman and Mr. James Barley.

We have also added to the number of classrooms. The library and cafeteria were divided in half to make two new classrooms. Mrs. Barber has her English classes in the north-east end of what was the cafeteria and Miss Bowman has her typing classes in the north-east end of what was the library. New shelves were installed across the new wall of the library for books. Students now eat on new fold-up tables in the multi-purpose room.

President, Paul Schipper, will be the secretary, and Robert Johnson, at the office of treasurer. Others from Jackson and Washington townships, Ralph Bantz and County Superintendent Harold Reasoner,
New School corporation

HAPTER V

ACTIVITIES

The Student Council consists of 20 students; each high school class represented by four members and each junior high class represented by two members. The officers are; president, Tom Markley, vice president, Linda Grover, secretary-treasurer, Dea Kendall. The Student Council sponsored several dances, the chapel programs, and several convocations.

Student Council

The officers and sponsors of the Student Council are: Mrs. Nellie Williams, Mr. Noel Lewis, Mr. A. F. Allen, Linda Grover, Vice-President; Dea Kendall, Sec.-Treas.; Tom Markley, President.

Sponsored by HOOSIER GRAIN & SUPPLY COMPANY

Chariot Staff

On the staff are: Mary Said, Karen Ely, Sharon Williams, Vera Mahorney, Dan Pugh, Francis Fuller, Jerry Reidy, Phyllis Clark, Linda Whybrew, Carolyn Brown, and Mrs. Kelly, sponsor.

The first issue of the newspaper of the Montpelier Community School came out in January. To tie in with the Spartan theme of our basketball team and annual, it was named "The Chariot," since it carries the news of the school. It was hoped that an issue could be published monthly for the rest of the school year.

Crier

The Crier Staff, sponsored by Mrs. Kelly, has for its reporters, or more appropriately, gossip-mongers: Vera Mahorney, Mrs. Kelly, Melvina Masters, and Carolyn Brown.

Sponsored by TWI LITE INN

FHA

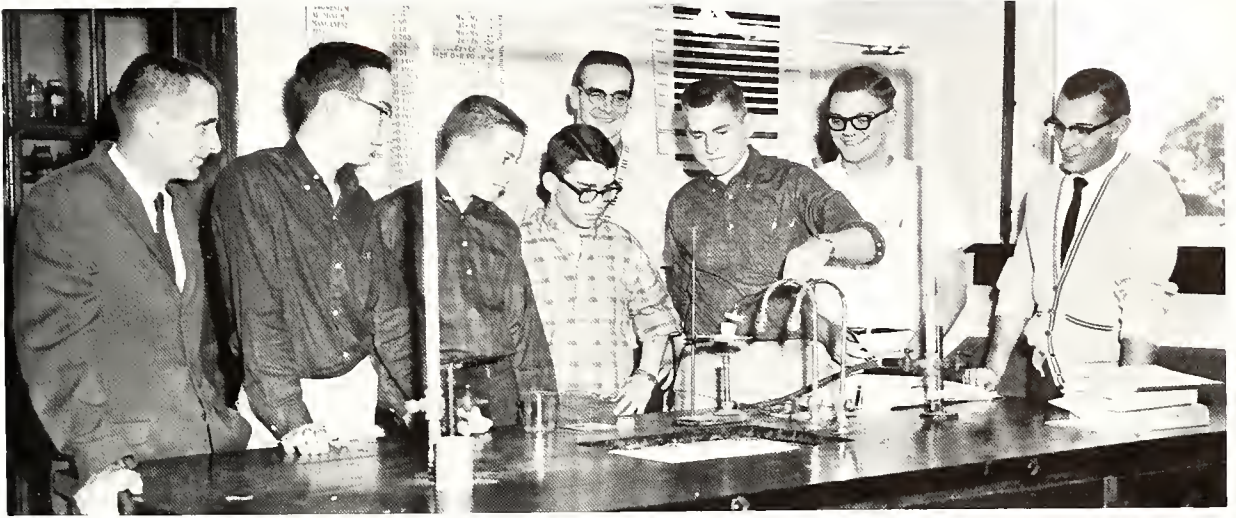

The Future Homemakers of America has 29 members this year with Mrs. Kershner as sponsor. The club is "kept on its toes" during the year to meet its state and district requirements. The officers are: President, Carolyn Brown; Vice-President, Lesley Stoltz; Secretary, Jana Weschke; Treasurer, Kathleen Koons. Members are: ROW 1--Kathleen Koons, Lesley Stoltz, Janet Lee. ROW 2--Marcy Merchant, Nancy Johnson, Julia Beymer, Carolyn Brown, Melanie McCammon, Jana Weschke, Pat Reidy. ROW 3--Janet Grover, Sherry Pursiful, Linda Whybrew, Joyce Bonjour, Marilyn Kelly, Melvina Masters, Betty Outcalt, Areta King. ROW 4--Mrs. Kershner, Pam King, Jean Bradshaw, Dottie Stinson, Rita Rogers, Susie Reff, Elaine Reff, Sherry Kirk. ROW 5--Theresa Macon, Sandra Wrightson, Susan Snyder, Sherry Goodyear.

FFA

The Future Farmers of America are exactly what their name implies, future farmers. They participate in judging and demonstrating. The members and officers are: ROW 1--Mr. Drayer, Sponsor; John Schwartzkopf, Secretary; Ronnie Knox, Carroll Cline, Rex Lee, President; Connie Lewis, Chapter Sweetheart; Dan Underwood, Vice-President; Fred Walker, Treasurer; Forrest Johnson. ROW 2--Steve Green, William Ford, Jim Lee, Dick Baker, Mike Knox, Larry Holloway, Dennis Underwood, Mike Rogers, Danny Grayson. ROW 3--Gary Rogers, Bob Bye, Larry Small, Eugene Davis, John Koontz, Tom Tomlinson, Bob Bridges, Keith Shrader, Steve Downhour. ROW 4--Tom Smelser, Bob Glessner, Kenneth Love, Fred Schultz, Tom Alfrey, Tom Albach, Richard Wolfgang, Daune Blumenhorst, Alex Mahorney.

Science Club

The Science Club, which has five members and three sponsors, spend their meetings in the laboratory doing experiments. The "mad scientists" are Mr. Granderson, Gary Weatherholt, Bill Wolverton, Allen Mattson, Mr. Love, Dick Fishback, Ronnie Hawk, and Mr. Tinkle.

Library Club

Capably sponsored by our school librarian, Miss Rea, the library club works to acquaint its members with the uses and services of the library. Roll's Senior and Junior Trip Pictures are shown of a few of the places that were visited by the Roll Senior and Junior Classes while on their trip. They are the Statue of Liberty in New York, the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia, and the Archives Building in Washington, D.C.

The Senior and Junior trip was something that was always looked forward to by the students and the teachers. The trip was taken every other year in October. The trip was packed full of fun and excitement as well as educational experiences.

Roll's Junior Play

"Do You Trust Your Boy Friend?"

While Mr. and Mrs. Meredith are out of town, their daughters, Kay and turbulent Judy, are left in charge of Bessie, the Meredith housekeeper. Unexpectedly, Madeline Ross, a disturbingly attractive girl from a nearby city, arrives for a visit. Since Madeline's father is one of Mr. Meredith's best customers, Kay must make Madeline's visit a pleasant one. But both Kay and her chum, Lois Andrews, are uneasy as to how Madeline's charms will affect their boy friends, Steve and Tom. The high school band, of which Steve is leader and Tom a member, is to give a concert at a neighboring town the same night. Kay, determined that the boys shall not meet Madeline, refuses to attend the concert, as Lois frames the excuse, by telling Steve that Kay is to have a business interview with a certain Dudley Harvard Smith--a name Lois picks from a book. The boys, as shown by the picture above, are openly suspicious. In desperation Kay produces a perfectly strange man whom she introduces as Mr. Dudley Harvard Smith. When Miss Denny, the high school history teacher, learns that Dudley Harvard Smith is visiting Kay, she discloses the electrifying fact, as shown in the picture at the right, that he is a noted historian and that he has undoubtedly arrived to award Kay a prize for her essay on Americanism.

From this point the play is a riot of fun and action. Events seem to prove that the strange man pictured below--who now refused to leave the house--is an escaped patient from a hospital for the insane.

Before matters were happily adjusted for everyone, the audience was treated to three acts of constant laughter and hilarious surprise.

KAY MEREDITH, youthful and vivacious, was played by Beth Briles.

JUDY MEREDITH, her tempestuous kid sister, was played by Susie Carper.

LOIS ANDREWS, Kay's best friend, was played by Judy Holloway.

STEVE WOODWARD, Kay's boy friend, was played by Wayne Confer.

TOM NOLAN, Steve's pal and Lois' boy friend, was played by Dick Fuller.

MADLINE ROSS, A week-end visitor, was played by Paula Ballenger.

PHIL HUNTER, with a girl-shy complex, was played by Mike Christman.

BESSIE TROTTER, housekeeper at the Meredith home, was played by Linda Ford.

G. T. ELLISON, on an unexpected mission, was played by Phil Said.

MISS DENNY, the high school history teacher, was played by Brenda Duncan.

Her Kissin' Cousin

The cast of the 1962 Montpelier High School Junior Class play included: Junior Ely, as Harry Ames; Carolyn Brown as Mollie Farrell, Harry's girl friend and a friend of Jennifer's; Dan Pugh as Tom Jackson, the guinea pig of the play; Linda Grover as Jennifer Desmond, who at the end of the play, won Tom back from Lucy Lee; Lesley Stoltz as Lucy Lee Saunders, the clinging vine from Tugboat Mississippi who decided that her old boy friend, Randolph Fitzhugh, portrayed by Tom Markley, was best of all; Pauline O'Hern as Jody Armstrong, impudent, lively, and hilarious, when teaching Tom to flirt; Mike Shadle as Bruce Bartlett, Jodie's special property; and Mr. Robert Lee, director.

Lucy Lee (Lesley Stoltz) angrily looks on as Jody (Pauline O'Hern) introduces Randolph (Tom Markley) to Mollie (Carolyn Brown). Tom (Dan Pugh) crosses uneasily to the window seat to wait and see what is going to happen. Lucy Lee seemed very unhappy that Randolph had come "Up North" from Tugboat to see her.

Jody and Jennie start plotting again when Harry lets it slip out that his and Bruce's friendship has been broken up by Lucy Lee.

Mollie works at teaching Tom to dance to make him more attractive to Lucy Lee.

Prom of 1962

Star Night, the theme of the 1962 Montpelier High School Prom was beautifully portrayed under a sapphire blue crepe paper sky with silvery metallic stars, by a huge silver star with the words "Star Night" draped from the uppermost point which composed the setting for the band. A mammoth silver star edged with miniature twinkle lights was the center of which the crepe paper canopy came. Three large silver stars and pink draping formed the background for King Clyde Hudson and Queen Bernita Pitts' court which consisted of: Janet Evans, Linda Merchant, Judy Love, Ann McVay, Lorretta Murphy, Mary Kay Coffield, Jerry Kitterman, Gerry Hoover, Robert Lee, Gaylen Walker, Jerry Reff and Terry Noller.

Pictured to the right, dancing under the stars are the King and Queen of the prom, Clyde Hudson and Bernita Pitts.

1962 Senior Class Play: LOCK, STOCK, AND LIPSTICK was presented October 19, 1962. The cast included: Brenda Duncan as Miss Entwhistle, the principal of Pembroke high school; Garneta Fishback, prompter; Richard Fuller as Larry Donley, a hood; Mike Shadle as Don Donley, Larry's brother and Mary Lou's boy friend; Beth Briles as Mrs. Donley, Don and Larry's mother; Linda Grover as Jane Gardner, the new guidance counselor, in her first year of teaching; Pauline O'Hern, as Carol Izzard, the loud talking girl friend of Larry; Carolyn Brown as Miss Prather, a stern business-like math teacher; Ellen Kelsay as Mrs. Maggs in her first year as cleaning woman at Pembroke High; and Dan Pugh as Charlie Plunket, the Supervising Sanitary Engineer.
